

For Immediate Release

29 January 2007

ANGLE plc

(‘ANGLE’ or ‘the Company’)

SENIOR APPOINTMENT: GEOMERICS LTD

ANGLE plc, the venture management and consulting company specialising in the commercialisation of technology and the development of technology-based industry, is pleased to announce the appointment of Gary Lewis as Chief Executive Officer at its Progeny® venture company Geomerics Ltd.

Mr. Lewis (aged 44) joins Geomerics following eight years at Take-Two (NASDAQ: TTWO), a leading worldwide publisher, developer and distributor of interactive entertainment software and accessories. Gary most recently held the position of Global Chief Operating Officer, based in New York and was previously, President of International Operations for three years, operating out of the UK.

Founded in 2005, Geomerics has secured intellectual property in the field of geometric algebra, a powerful new form of mathematics that vastly simplifies complex geometric calculations. Geometric algebra has its origins in the rather esoteric academic discipline of theoretical cosmology, but it has now been developed for application in computer graphics.

Geomerics’ technology provides a major step-change improvement over the competition, and is set to revolutionise the market. Overall the market for computer games is currently worth more than $30bn and growing rapidly, and the market for graphics within these games is worth over $600m per year. Since its establishment, Geomerics has developed a suite of impressive demonstrations which have attracted considerable interest from potential customers.

Following Gary’s appointment, founder Dr Chris Doran will move from CEO to Chief Operating Officer where he will focus on the development of Geomerics’ products and markets.

Commenting on his appointment, Gary Lewis said:

“I am delighted to be joining Geomerics. I have been extremely impressed by Geomerics’ product pipeline and look forward to putting the substantial advantages of the technology into the hands of developers and publishers of next generation titles. I am particularly excited by the launch of our first product, a real-time Radiosity lighting solution.”

Dr Chris Doran, COO of Geomerics added:

“Gary is an industry heavyweight and will be a valuable asset to us. Geomerics’ product pipeline is progressing quickly and we are confident it has the capacity to greatly impact this industry in the near future. Gary’s experience will be invaluable in our drive towards commercialisation. We are truly excited to have him on board.”

Andrew Newland, Chief Executive of ANGLE plc said:

“Gary Lewis is one of the leading executives in computer games industry. His commercial experience and the outstanding network of contacts he has developed whilst at Take Two will be a major advantage to Geomerics in securing commercial deals to exploit its technology platform. Gary’s recruitment is a coup for Geomerics and a vote of confidence in the business.”
